STUDIO 52

EMPIRE MUSIC STUDIOS PTY LTD

Studio A

Studio A has everything you need to achieve world-class results. From your first recordings you will feel relaxed and creatively inspired. This is because the studio has been designed by engineers and musicians who understand that great recordings are all about capturing the magic. All major studios have great gear but how you play on the day and how you feel in the studio are actually more important than the microphone or the preamplifier. In order to capture the magic you need the process to be seamless so you can concentrate on your music and leave the technical details to the engineer. Studio A has been designed differently to most other studios, we are happy to explain this in more detail but in short, the main benefits are incredible sound quality and far greater productivity. You will get a lot more done in a day here than most other big studios – please feel free to ask us why. Studio A has four inter-linked recording spaces which make it ideal for any live band wanting to ‘keep it real’ but with the sound detail of a fully multi-tracked project. Studio A is home to a wide range of music styles and is perfect for all kinds of acoustic groups and those that are fully amped. The combination of space, gear and great engineers makes studio A one of the best tracking and mixing rooms in Australia.

“Studio 52 has been the first major studio to discard the old ‘boat anchor’ mixing consoles and replace them with a customised desk of mic preamps and digital routing, making way for the computer DAW to take pride of place in the centre of the stereo spectrum. The whole marriage of old and new technology works like a dream delivering more power with more simplicity than ever before”

To make great recordings you must first have a recording space that inspires people to perform at their best. The best results come when the musicians and singers feel comfortable in the studio environment

Analog warmth on every recording thanks to TLA Valve Preamps

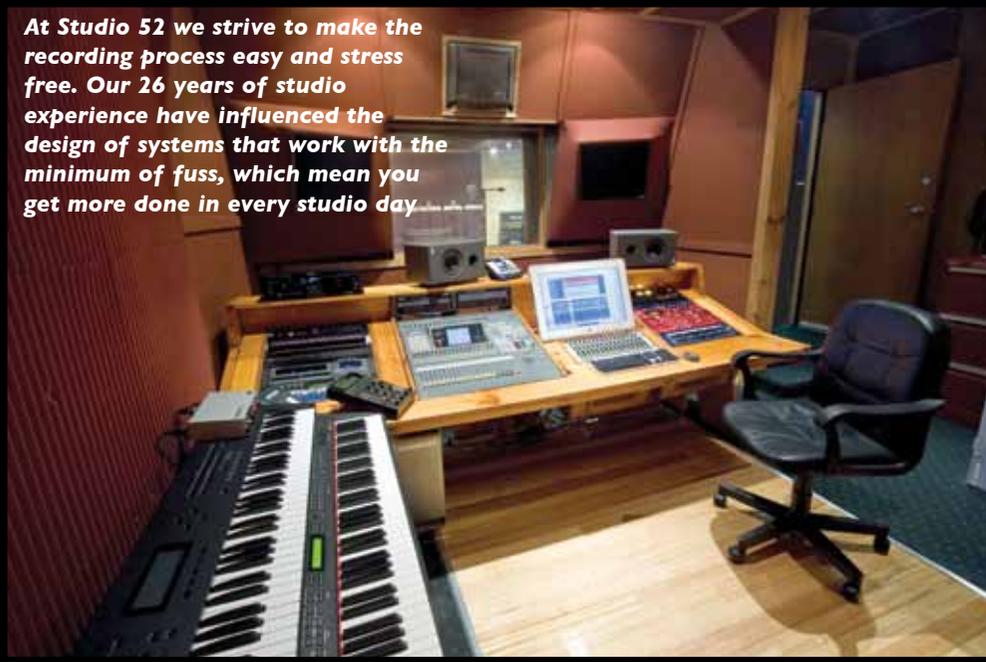

Solid State perfection from Focusrite

RME converters lose nothing in the analog to digital conversion

At Studio 52 we strive to make the recording process easy and stress free. Our 26 years of studio experience have influenced the design of systems that work with the minimum of fuss, which mean you get more done in every studio day.

Studio B

Studio B is a lower priced alternative to studio A but it is still a room capable of producing major release quality results. Studio B has a large comfortable control room and two large recording spaces. Studio B is perfect for band demos, independent albums, along with all tracking and overdubs.

EMPIRE MUSIC STUDIOS PTY LTD

As all of our studios are compatible with each other it is quite easy to do different stages of a production in each studio, getting the best result for your budget, such as recording in B, mixing in A and mastering in C. One of the things people love about studio B is the huge drum room.

Studio C

Studio C has been designed for a mixture of key uses. It's perfect when you need a more intimate environment for one-on-one recordings between a vocalist and producer without the band breathing down the singers shoulder. Studio C is the best choice for soloists, musicians and duos. Studio C is our specialist studio for music programming and pre & post-production work. Mastering is also a major part of the workflow as we have some amazing analog and digital tools for achieving world class results. A lot of work has gone into the acoustics of the control room to provide a critical reference matched with excellent monitoring from our new ADAM S3X-H studio speakers.
